

Dedicated Counseling

Worksite, virtual or clinic-based counseling improves access to care and support

Dedicated counseling is just that — dedicated, at a client level, to provide culturally-relevant mental health support. Dedicated counseling expedites meaningful access to care by providing clients with the convenience and organizational expertise of a counselor (or counselors) who are woven into the fabric of each employer.

Complete Service Administration

CuraLinc takes ownership of the entire program, including recruiting, culture mapping, onboarding, training, managing and auditing.

The dedicated counseling model can be delivered anywhere in the world; and in multiple locations for each client.

CuraLinc can staff worksite, virtual or clinic-based counselors any day of the week and at any time of the day.

For CuraLinc's EAP clients, the reporting suite includes data and insight from both 'traditional' and dedicated counseling.
